Join
Secretary of Labor and Workforce Development
Joanne F. Goldstein, Director of Labor George E. Noel and Members of the Joint Enforcement Task Force on the Underground Economy at a Town Hall Meeting for the Construction Industry Please join us to see how the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is helping the construction industry.

The Joint Enforcement Task Force on the Underground Economy welcomes your testimony about workplace fraud and employee misclassification. The general public, businesses, labor organizations, and community groups are invited to attend and participate. How has the construction industry been impacted? If you do wish to testify at this event, please bring extra copies of your written remarks for the Joint Enforcement Task Force to keep.

If you cannot attend, but would like your testimony to be included at this meeting, please send it in advance. All testimony relevant to the work of the Joint Enforcement Task Force can be sent on an ongoing basis to Linnea Walsh, Executive Office of Labor and Workforce Development, Joint Enforcement Task Force on the Underground Economy and Employee Misclassification, Charles F. Hurley Building, 5th floor, Boston, MA 02114 or to lwalsh@detma.org.

For media inquiries about this session or the Joint Enforcement Task Force, please contact Alison Harris, Director of Communications, Executive Office of Labor and Workforce Development at 617-626-7121 or alison.harris@state.ma.us.
